Food Partnership News

We're recruiting an intern

Are you looking for your first job in the environmental sector? We are recruiting for a 12-week paid internship for the Food Use Places project. No experience or qualifications needed.

Are you able to work independently, confident in engaging members of the public, friendly and approachable, interested in IT & social media?

High quality, grass-fed, wild

Sussex Wildlife Trust conservation grazing mutton boxes are available through our Sussex Grazed meat box scheme. We've also got beef from Saddlescombe farm (including burgers for your BBQ), lamb from Clapham Farm, and wild venison on offer.

Plus read the new blog where Georgina Cockett from Sussex Grazed and Jo Glazebrook from the Community Kitchen discuss their partnership.

Warehouse needed to support our food network

We are seeking an accessible 1,500–3,000sq ft warehouse space to create a food support hub. By donating or connecting us with suitable premises, businesses can help reduce costs, tackle food waste and deliver meaningful social impact across our community in Brighton & Hove.
